How can I be considered for the Northeast Wisconsin Veterans Treatment Court?

---

If you are reading this pamphlet and decide you want to be considered for the NEWVTC, ask your attorney, the prosecutor, or the Judge to have your case placed on the next NEWVTC calendar for an initial hearing.

Admission to the Veterans Treatment Court is not automatic.

You must be eligible for Veterans Administration benefits or community based treatment (at your expense) or possess personal resources enabling you to obtain appropriate treatment.

In addition, the prosecutor must agree that both you and your criminal charge(s) qualify for consideration by the Veterans Treatment Court.

If you successfully complete this resource eligibility and prosecutor screening, you will then undergo a treatment and mental health assessment to determine if the Veterans Treatment Court is appropriate and can meet your needs.

Finally, if you successfully complete each of those steps in the process, you will be considered by the Veterans Treatment Court Team for admission into the NEWVTC.

Upon successful completion of all of the program phases, and with the recommendation of the VTC Team, a graduation ceremony will be held for you.
